Re: BridgePoint Risk Management

To whom it may concern:

As the leader of Cincinnati Insurance Companies personal insurance business, I am strongly endorsing BridgePoint Risk Management as one of the leading high net worth personal insurance brokers in the United States. Having spent over 26 years in the personal lines industry focused on the high net worth segment of the business, I have had the opportunity to work with thousands of industry professionals and agents and brokers all across the country.

BridgePoint stands out as an agency with a focused dedication to servicing the unique needs of sophisticated clients all over the United States. Their dedication to providing tailored risk management solutions, with exceptional insurance carriers offering the broadest coverage, has enabled BridgePoint to become one of the country's leading high net worth personal lines specialists.

As a prospective or existing client, you will find BridgePoint to have exceptionally experienced staff members dedicated to addressing your individual risk management and insurance needs.

Please feel free to reach out to me personally if you'd like to discuss my endorsement of BridgePoint Risk Management. I am confident that you will be very pleased with the professional service and advise you receive from BridgePoint.

Sincerely yours,

Will Van Den Heuvel
